ROEHR PHARMACEUTICALS

A Dietary Supplement that is as Unique as YOU!

You know that good health is preventive health. Dietary supplements can go far to help you achieve your goals. But only when your supplements are truly meeting your unique nutritional and supplemental needs. Supplements from a store or catalog, a one-size fits all approach, fall far short in that regard.

With our Patented ROEHR™ BioG MicroTabs Ingredients Technology, available at your Health Professional's practice or Compounding Pharmacy, you now have access to the only completely customizable supplement system available on the market today. The ingredients in a ROEHR™ Supplement Blend can be personalized based on your health history, specific health challenges, and blood work. It works like this...

- 1 Discuss your current health challenges or goals with your Health Professional, Physician, Pharmacist, Nutritionist, Dietician...to name a few, and share a list of the supplements you are currently taking.
- 2 Your Health Professional shows you how your current supplement list can be combined into one product. For example, let's say you take a multi-vitamin, additional vitamin C, vitamin D, co-enzyme Q10 and a probiotic each day. You can now have all those products combined into one single BioG MicroTabs Ingredients Blend. First, your Health Professional may start you on a ROEHR™ Standard Blend or a Proprietary Blend especially formulated by your Health Professional. Then your Health Professional can formulate a Personalized Blend, customized just for you, to meet your particular needs and goals. And you will find this new blend surprisingly affordable and convenient.
- 3 Your Health Professional will review ordering and shipping options.
- 4 Once you receive your ROEHR™ BioG MicroTabs blend, be sure to take the recommended serving size as directed by your Health Professional or the label.
- 5 Follow up with your Health Professional. Based on your progress, lab results and goals, your Health Professional may adjust the serving size. He/she now has the ability to adjust your blend, by adding or removing individual ingredients.

"One-Size Fits All" Supplements? Your Body is Too Unique for That!

With all the choices of dietary supplements available today, how do you choose the right supplement for you? It's challenging to discern which supplement brands are reliable and effective. It is far too easy to mistakenly purchase a low-quality product. Poorly manufactured products, low absorption and inadequate formulations can present health challenges, rather than solve them. Working with your Health Professional and the patented ROEHR™ BioG MicroTabs Ingredients Technology, you will receive the most effective supplementation system on the market today. You can be certain that:

- The ingredients are the best quality and most bioavailable form (your body will absorb and use them)
- The ingredient serving sizes are at optimal levels for your health goals
- Your supplement blend will not interfere with any of your medications
- You will experience real measurable health-changing effects

Thankfully, your Health Professional wants to help you navigate the supplement maze and track measurable health goals with the most effective, affordable and personalized supplementation on the market.

It's time to take the guesswork out of supplementing!

With ROEHR™ BioG MicroTabs, rest assured that you are consuming supplements that are the highest quality, third-party lab-verified and manufactured to German pharmaceutical standards (cGMP). And your customized supplement blend is tailored to your nutritional needs and health goals.

Take ALL your needed vitamins, herbals, and other health-promoting nutrients in one easy, daily BioG MicroTabs serving:

- Easy to swallow
- Several ingredients in a SINGLE convenient serving
- Ingredients with high efficacy and pharmaceutical quality
- Ingredient formula that can be easily adjusted by your Health Professional based on your progress, goals or blood-work.

What are ROEHR™ BioG MicroTabs?

At ROEHR Pharmaceuticals™, when we first began developing a personalized supplement system, we tried powders. They were easy to create, but were messy, required added sweeteners and flavors, and patients did not enjoy taking them! With BioG MicroTabs, we found that patients enjoyed taking them; they were very convenient and easy to swallow.

Our German pharmaceutical-quality ingredients are compressed into BioG MicroTablets using special customized micro-tableting tools. All of our vitamin, herbal, and amino acid ingredients come in the same 7mg weight and 2mm x 2mm MicroTablet size. That results in a mixture that is always homogeneously blended and provides consistent servings. The tiny size of the MicroTabs also means they absorb more efficiently and get to the parts of your body where they're needed most.

How ROEHR™ BioG MicroTabs Supplementing Works—An Example

FIRST Your Health Professional provides you with a ROEHR™ Standard Blend that includes:

- Standardized Fruits & Greens for antioxidant support*
- Pharmaceutical-quality Vitamin C for additional antioxidant and immune system support*
- Standardized Curcumin/Ginger for a healthy inflammatory response*
- Superior water-soluble CoQ10 with three times higher bioavailability*

THEN A few months later, based on clinical results, physical results, or biomarker tests, your Health Professional may personalize your blend in several ways:

- Adjust the CoQ10 dose in response to shifts in your medication doses*
- Add chondroitin sulfate to address new joint health goals*
- Adjust the vitamin C serving in response to better dietary habits*
